Mitutoyo's newly redesigned HR-600 Series is a High-End CNC Rockwell Hardness Testing Machine. The HR-600 Series delivers hardness testing that defies conventional thinking, combining innovative design and functionality that enables a wide variety of measurements.

The HR-600 supports both Rockwell Hardness and Brinell Hardness Tests on a single machine, expanding the range of available measurements. The machine's high resolution load cell developed uniquely by Mitutoyo allows for high-precision test load feedback control and usability on the ground. This series is the first Hardness tester with moving heads.
